

Rebuilding Lytton Area History

An update from Lytton Museum & Archives - May 2026

The new Museum Executive is actively working on building a new collection in anticipation of a future new building space.

Our most recent donation is from the Liivam family who have gifted us various ephemera and photograph albums from the time the family lived in Lytton. One photo album is a collection of colour photographs of Lytton and area taken by John Liivam. The second is the album that was created for him when he retired after 17 years teaching at KSS.

This is especially welcome in our collection as not only does it show John at KSS, but there are lots of staff photographs and many of classes, groups or clubs.

Here are 2 (randomly chosen) for your enjoyment. Do you recognize yourself in either of these?

We look forward to when we have a physical presence in Lytton once again and are able to host a "Who are these people?" Day for you to help put names to faces.
